

This is a two-day intensive (and fun!) workshop where you will learn to enable the soft intuitive voice inside of you to become your trusted guidance. Co-creating the workshop experience are the ranch horses as your partners of self-discovery. Come increase or discover your own ability to "read" animals. You will be working directly with Melisa and her equine partners. No riding experience is necessary, only your desire to expand your awareness.

Held in the INDOOR arena at Lil Bit North Ranch in Longmont, Colorado.

Limited to 25 participants.

Lunch included.

Participants are responsible for their own transportation and lodging.
